The authors would like to make the following corrections to their published paper [1]. The changes are as follows:

Figure 5. Social network analysis, showing the relationship between the country funding the research (nodes) and the country where the study area is located (edges). The number of papers that share the same relationship is represented by the thickness of the links. Countries of the Global South (gross national income (GNI) < 25,000 U.S.$ per capita) and countries of the Global North (GNI > 25,000 U.S.$ per capita) are represented in green and purple, respectively.
